EVENT LOCATIONS:

SUNDAY, JUNE 7

12 pm- "Forest Foundations: How Trees Built a New World" Hike

(meet at Double Bluff shelter)- Participants are invited to walk through our local woods while discovering how colonists depended on native trees for everyday life. Along the trail, you'll learn how each tree served a purpose in building homes, tools, and communities —and how the landscape itself helped shape early American survival and industry.

1 pm-Bigfoot Hike at Sgt. Gregory Martin Park-Join us for the Bigfoot Discovery Hike down the Jonesville Greenway where we will explore the woods, search for clues, and learn about local wildlife along the way. Keep your eyes open—you never know what (or who!) you might find!
